JUNIOR POULTRY – DEPARTMENT 107

Jr. Superintendent – Jeff Schmalfeldt, 262-492-8211
Asst. Jr. Superintendent – Ray Schilz
Key Leader – Bill Marquart
Director in Charge – Loretta Meinel

JUDGING DAY: Animals and Eggs SATURDAY at 8:00 am, Non-bird projects FRIDAY at 6:00 pm

REGULATIONS – Refer to Health Regulations in front of book
RULES GOVERNING EXHIBITS – READ THEM CAREFULLY

1. No exhibitor will be allowed more than one entry under each class number.
2. All birds (including non-bird projects) must be brought to the fair between 7 am and 7 pm on Tuesday. Birds must be clean, appear healthy, and free of parasites or they will not be allowed to stay at the fair. All birds (including non-bird projects) must be removed after 4 pm and before 7 pm on Monday (Labor Day) after a committee member has checked you out. Before your birds are removed from the fairgrounds, all feed and water containers are to be cleaned and put away and all trash removed.
3. Attendance at one poultry project meeting is required to show at the fair. If this is not met, birds may be dropped one place during the show (Example, a blue ribbon bird will get a red ribbon).
4. Each exhibitor will be expected to clean their cages each day and refill water and feed throughout the day, Barn duty is required of all exhibitors. Failure to comply with either previous portion of the rule may cause premiums and awards to be withheld.
5. Each exhibitor may sign up 15 bird entries, but may only show a maximum of 10. Only 1 male and 1 female per class may be entered per Division letter. Scratches (entry tags of bird not being shown) SHOULD BE surrendered at set-up or must be turned in on Tuesday at check in to the Fair. If scratches are not reported by check in deadline to bring total to 10, excess bird entries will be scratched by the superintendent; starting with auction eligible birds. If there are no auction eligible birds, then the scratches will proceed in class alphabetical order.
6. All entries should be varieties recognized by the American Standard of Perfection or the Bantam Standard of Perfection. All birds must show in class entered. Any entries not recognized by the American Standard of Perfection or the Bantam Standard of Perfection can only advance at the level of their class. They will not be eligible for awards beyond their class.
7. All birds must arrive at check-in with numbered leg bands on the birds.
8. All birds must be shown only by a junior exhibitor.
9. All birds (except roasters and broilers) must be owned by exhibitor by June 1, and the exhibitor must take an active role in the care of the birds while at home and at the fair.
10. Age Classifications: All fowl for exhibition must be hatched on or after Jan. 1st of exhibit year.
11. FUR & FEATHER RULES: Only blue ribbon birds from divisions with an asterisk * are eligible to sell. To sell your bird, you must fill out a sale form by NOON on SUNDAY. They will be available at the front of the poultry building, by the storeroom. An exhibitor may sell no more than a total of 4 entries from the poultry, rabbit, or goat projects. To sell your bird, you MUST BE available by 9:00 a.m. on sale day to move your birds and cages to the sale area and back to the barn after the sale.
12. Roasters and Broilers will have their weight checked at check in.
13. The exhibitor will be allowed to change the sex and/or breed of their bird on fair tags until 5PM the Friday after cage set up in August. The exhibitor may NOT change the species of the bird.
14. All exhibitors must submit a completed Poultry Project Summary form for review by the time and date directed by the Superintendent. These will be returned to exhibitors before the animal release time on Monday of fair week.
15. All livestock rules and regulations on page 56 are required.

Tentative show order will follow the fair book; it will be posted on show day. Champion trophies and ribbons will be given to all class champions. Ribbons will be awarded to all reserve class champions. In bird entries as well as non-bird classes awards will be given to best of show and reserve best of show in standard Chicken; Bantam; Turkeys; Ducks; and Geese. Supreme Champion will be selected from the best in show birds, and be awarded to one bird as the overall Supreme Champion.
