

Expo Square Announces Partnership With The Lemon-Aid Project
The Tulsa State Fair Will Host A Satellite Stand To Celebrate The 30th Anniversary Of The Lemon-Aid Project

Tulsa, Oklahoma, April 11, 2024 – Expo Square is thrilled to unveil its partnership with The Lemon-Aid Project. In commemoration of The Lemon-Aid Project's 30th Anniversary, numerous Satellite Stands will dot prominent locations across Tulsa. To mark this milestone, Expo Square will establish its own Satellite Stand by the iconic Golden Driller Statue, infusing the essence of Tulsa's favorite Fair into our lemonade stand over Labor Day Weekend. All proceeds from The Lemon-Aid Project stands will benefit the Lindsey House.

"Seeing the beloved Tulsa Driller decked out in yellow this Labor Day Weekend will not just be a dream come true; it symbolizes the impact and efforts of thousands of Tulsa-area youth over the last 30 years," said Katie Eller Murray, co-founder and chair of The Lemon-Aid Project. "We cannot thank the team at Expo Square enough for their steadfast commitment to supporting nonprofits across the county. It's a testament to how community and purpose can come together, creating a lasting impact. We are deeply grateful for this opportunity, proving that together, we can make a difference - one lemonade stand at a time."

The Lemon-Aid Project stands as a cherished philanthropic tradition in Tulsa, empowering youth of all ages to raise funds for individuals in need. Equipped with all the essentials to set up lemonade stands, children across the Tulsa area become budding entrepreneurs, catalyzing positive change within their communities. Last year alone, The Lemon-Aid Project engaged over 110 volunteers and raised $16,000. This city-wide charitable event takes place annually over Labor Day Weekend, and we invite you to keep an eye out for The Lemon-Aid Project Stands! For more information on The Lemon-Aid Project

We look forward to being part of the 30th Anniversary and bringing a Fair theme to this year’s outreach, over Labor Day Weekend.”
