2. This is a TERMINAL SALE. All market animals will be taken to a respective slaughter facility. Market animals allowed to leave the fairgrounds for other reasons than slaughter will be at the discretion of the fair veterinarian or the judge as (In the case of illness or white ribbon). ABSOLUTELY NO TAKE HOMES.
3. Exhibitors are responsible for all care, feeding, fitting, and management of their market animal and must take their own animal through the sale ring. The goal of the Market Stock sale is to sell all healthy eligible animals at the terminal livestock auction. Therefore, ANY exhibitor who does not sell their own animal will get floor price only and is NOT eligible for Add-on monies. Exceptions will be made on a case-by-case basis and must be preapproved by the Market Stock Executive Board prior to the sale.
4. Parental interference will result in the forfeiture of premium monies on the first offense. If a second incident occurs, the market animal will be expelled from the grounds and ineligible to sell. "See code of Conduct."
5. Exhibitors will be allowed to tag two market animals of each species but may show and sell only one market animal. One animal must be registered in an individual exhibitor's name. A second animal can be registered as the individual's alternate or as a family alternate, naming all other individual family members. An exhibitor may register a maximum of two species, including the animal registered under a family name, but can only exhibit one species at the Fair. A family is defined as siblings.
