

Youth Organization Information

How can youth exhibit at the Fair?

The Dane County Fair offers an opportunity for youth to participate in the competitive exhibit departments at the Fair each year. Fair entries are open to youth members of 4-H, FFA, or another recognized youth organization (school club, Girl Scouts, Scouts, church group, afterschool program, etc.) under adult leadership that has an education program appropriate to that organization. Youth organization leaders of a group other than 4-H or FFA need to complete the enclosed form each year for approval by the Fair prior to May 1st of the current Fair year in order for their youth members to exhibit at the Fair.

Exhibitor information and terms

Early Childhood Exhibitors: Youth in grades K–2 and youth in grades 3–5 who are first time exhibitors are eligible to exhibit in Department 17 - Early Childhood. They must also be in good standing of the youth organization they represent to participate in the Fair.

Youth Exhibitors for Competitive Exhibits: Youth must be 8–19 years of age (at least in third grade) on January 1 of the current fair year and in good standing of the youth organization they represent to participate in the Fair. NOTE: Exhibitors who have learning or physical disabilities may exhibit according to their developmental or functional age. Contact the Fair Office for more information.

Departments: There are a variety of Departments to enter in for competitive exhibits that are often referred to as Non-animal and Animal. Non-animal Departments include but are not limited to, cultural arts (drawing, painting, jewelry, etc.), photography, computers, mechanical projects (rockets, Lego, etc.), foods, cake decorating, clothing (sewing), knitting & crocheting, plants (gardening & crops), flowers, woodworking, animal and veterinary science, and pocket pets (turtles, snakes, etc.). Animal Departments include dogs, cats, guinea pigs, rabbits, poultry, and large animals. The Departments are further divided into Classes and Lots.

Premium Book & Entries: The Dane County Fair Premium Book lists all rules and regulations for entering to be an Exhibitor at the Fair for all Departments. It also includes contact information for Chairs & Superintendents in each Department. You may contact Chairs/Superintendents or the Fair if you have any questions on a Department (which department should you enter a project, which class/lot, etc.). The Premium Book is on the Fair website (www.danecountyfair.com).

The Premium Book is very helpful when submitting entries that open in April and close the first day in June each year. The Fair uses FairEntry as our entries system, and our staff is available to assist with any questions on how to set up an account, submit entries, etc. when the time comes.

Chairs/Superintendents: Volunteers with knowledge in a Department that assist the Fair with rules and regulations for the department as well as on-site project exhibit check-in, judge assistance, display layout, and project check-out.

Judging: Departments are judged in three different categories and not all categories are used in one Department. The categories include Danish, Individual Conference, and Conference. Danish Judging is when projects in each Lot are placed into four groupings (1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th) with the maximum placements established by Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (WIDATCP). There is no interaction with the judge; non-animal exhibitors need not be present, but animal exhibitors must be present with their animal. Individual Conference Judging is when the youth is present and they have an individual conversation with the judge on their project. Conference Judging is when all youth in a Lot are present and display their projects to the judge for comparison.

All judges for departments are licensed with the WI DATCP for the department in which they are listed in. The Fair contracts directly with the judges, and the judges award the youth with a ribbon and a rosette if they are selected as a Champion or Reserve Champion.

Awards & Premiums: Youth projects are judged by a licensed judge and given a placing ribbon. If the project is chosen as the Champion (1st place) or Reserve Champion (2nd place), the exhibit will receive a rosette.

Premium money is given by check to youth based on their project ribbon placing. Checks for all exhibits are mailed directly to the youth after the Fair.

Exhibitor Fees & Admission Special: All Youth Exhibitors will receive a complimentary admission wristband for unlimited entry all 4 days. Exhibitor Family members can purchase additional admission wristbands or daily passes at a discount at the time of entry. All orders must be completed by the entry deadline. Entries and discounted wristbands or daily passes will not be accepted after the deadline.

STEPS TO EXHIBIT

- 1. Youth Organization Approval - Youth organizations (school club, Girl Scouts, Scouts, church group, afterschool program, etc. - not 4-H or FFA) must submit the enclosed Youth Organization Application to the Fair Office by May 1 for their organization to be approved in order for their youth to participate in the Fair.
- 2. Offer Education - Provide educational opportunities to your youth members to create projects to exhibit at the Fair based on the rules and regulations for the appropriate department listed in the Dane County Fair Premium Book. If your organization does not offer education to your members, we recommend partnering with another youth organization who does.
- 3. Exhibit Entry Process - Submit exhibit entries (must be created from August of the year prior to the week of Fair) once entries open in mid-April through the first day in June. The system used for entries is called FairEntry and a link will be posted to the Fair website under the “Youth Exhibitors” tab once it opens in April. Fair staff will send instructions and tips to all youth organizations for their youth members on how to enter their projects exhibits for the Fair. Each youth member (except for 4-H) will need to create an account in FairEntry before submitting their entries. The Fair will offer online Zoom calls with youth organizations upon request to review the entry process. Fair staff is also available for youth members to call or email with questions. It is recommended to contact the Fair office before entries close if you have any entries questions.

There is an entry fee and per animal fee for all youth exhibitors. The payment can be processed through the FairEntry system via credit card. All youth exhibitors will receive a complimentary admission wristband for all 4 days of the Fair.
- 4. Animal Departments - If youth members are participating in an animal department, there will be education requirements due by June 1 each year. Information on these requirements, what is approved, how to submit, etc. is listed on the Fair website under the “Youth Exhibitors” tab. Youth may participate in any of the approved education offerings.
- 5. Review Entries of Member Exhibitor - Once entries close, a list of all youth exhibitors within a youth organization will be sent to the Youth Organization Leader for review to make sure all youth are qualified to show at the Fair under their organization per the organizations requirements (attended all meetings, paid dues, etc.). The Youth Organization Leader will have about one week to review the list and inform the Fair if all youth are approved. After that, the Fair will prepare the entry packets.
- 6. Entry Packets Pick-up - Youth entry packets will be available for pick up at the end of June by the Youth Organization Leader. The packets will include Fair information, entry tags, wristbands, and any other items ordered or requested by the youth members or organization. The Youth Organization will be responsible for distributing the appropriate information to their youth members prior to the Fair. All youth will need their entry tags to check in their exhibits on-site during Fair Week.
- 7. Project Check-in & Judging - On-site at the Fair, youth will bring their exhibit for check-in and judging on the appropriate day listed in the Premium Book under their department. For example, Foods & Nutrition exhibit check-in and judging is on Monday of Fair Week; all other non-animal exhibits have their check-in and judging on Tuesday, animals are to arrive on Wednesday for check-in, and their judging is on different days of the Fair as noted in the Premium Book.

After judging, all exhibits are placed on display per department for attendees to view during the Fair (Thursday–Sunday).
- 8. Exhibit Displays - During the Fair, we encourage ALL youth to visit the Fair with their complimentary wristbands to view their exhibit(s) on display and support the animal exhibitors during their shows.
- 9. Project Pick-up - Youth will collect their exhibits in the Exhibition Hall at 4:30 p.m. Animal exhibitors are allowed to remove tack starting at 5 :30 p. m. and animals at 6:30 p.m.
- 10. Results - for all departments will be posted to the Fair website as judging concludes.
