

State
Historical Society of
North Dakota

Since 1895

Champsosaurus Gigas

COLORING ACTIVITY

Champsosaurus gigas was a crocodile-like animal that lived in swamps and ponds in North Dakota about 58 million years ago. They grew to lengths of 10 feet, had long pointed snouts with small sharp teeth, and were fish eaters.

