Staff Update

Fairgrounds: Michelle brought souvenir programs and QR code stickers for the committee to take and distribute.

CSU: Hayden updated the committee that a new director had been hired at the Extension Office by the name of Guinevere Nelson. He encouraged everyone to welcome her with open arms.

Judge Update: All but a few Round Robin judges have been secured.

Poultry Update: Poultry shows will still be happening in an abridged version. Show birds and Showmanship will be held on Monday, August 1 and Market shows and another round of Showmanship will be held on Thursday, August 4 in the Multi-Purpose Barn South. Rabbits and Cat will be moved to the South side of the Small Animal Barn. Increased biosecurity practices will be in place. Schedule & Logistics: With the Fair being two weekends now, there has been a little bit of shifting in the schedule and placement of a few activities. The committee went through the schedule and discussed logistics, including for Workday on Friday, July 29. The committee also requested that the 4-H Dance on Friday, August 5 be placed on the schedule as an official event.

Entry Numbers: This year there were 1741 Livestock Entries and 385 General Projects entries.

Others: Michelle asked the committee to be sure to support everyone in the committee and their activities during Fair including General Projects, Open Class and Ag/Flori exhibits in the Events Center.

4-H wristbands will be on sale in the Fairgrounds Office starting Monday, July 18 – Thursday July 29, and then again from the Pavilion on workday, July 29. No wristbands will be given or sold after this time and normal Fair gate admission will apply. Any questions, contact the Fairgrounds Office.

Next Meeting: September 7, 2022
