All framed artwork, paintings, needlework, etc. must be framed and ready to hang with wire attached UNLESS it is artwork done on a wrapped canvas board. Use eye screws that can be found at framing, hardware, and craft stores to attach the wire. Work which is not correctly wired for hanging is unsafe for display, as other types of hanging mechanisms will not fit securely on the hooks used in hanging or will pull loose, causing the work to fall and break. Please avoid using heavy or ornate frames. Hot glue, duct tape, or any other type of glue or tape should NOT be used to secure the wire for hanging. See examples above.
