THREE NEW MEXICO STATE FAIR IDOL FINALISTS SELECTED FOR AMERICAN IDOL VIRTUAL AUDITION

Yesterday evening, the New Mexico State Fair and Call Me Ozz Karaoke teamed up to find the best voices in New Mexico for the chance to win a Virtual VIP Executive Producer Audition. As part of the New Mexico State Fair Idol Competition, which took place at the Chevron Pavilion Stage, 20 singers competed for the unique opportunity to win the virtual audition.

Of the 20 talented New Mexicans who performed yesterday, the following top three (in no particular order) were selected for a future American Idol virtual audition:

Alyssa Johnstun – Rio Rancho

Noah Doyle – Albuquerque

Jenna Thunborg – Sandia Park

“The New Mexico State Fair is thrilled to play a part in identifying some of the best local talent in our state. These singers have earned a unique opportunity and we have high hopes that they may go on to represent New Mexico on the American Idol stage,” stated Dan Mourning, general manager of the New Mexico State Fair.
