INTRODUCTION

For 1990-91 we have compiled our first "History of Florida Fairs", which really is not only a history of fairs, and the Florida Federation of Fairs, but also a handbook to the 54 facilities which are chartered under Chapter 616.

Heretofore, there has been no written record of the development of Fairs in Florida and with the passing of time, many of the footprints left in its sands have been eroded.

This is the Florida Federation of Fairs and Livestock Shows effort to put the pieces back into the puzzle and some of the pieces were missing, both in the history of our Fairs and our Federation.

From this foundation, however, we hope we can reconstruct additional parts of this history... truly a part of Florida's Agricultural Heritage.

Also contained herein, you will find the first chronological listing of Chapter 616 Fairs and Livestock Shows, and their dates.

Additionally, we have compiled a complete facilities guide to participating Fairs based upon information provided by them.

We hope you will enjoy our efforts.

The “History of Florida Fairs” and the “History of the Florida Federation of Fairs & Livestock Shows, Inc.” continued.....

Jean Grant of the Citrus County Fair for compiling notes and encouraging the continuation of the original history.

Darwin Fuchs for writing the History of the Sales Tax Issue and an article about how delegates were chosen. Darwin also checked facts and gave unlimited encouragement to get the book finished.

Jim Overton of the Martin County Fair for the original copy of the history and for several older directories and program books.

Donna Begelman of the Miami-Dade County Fair for supplying older program books and newsletters.

Foster & Fuchs for articles, advice and checking of facts.

Jack Griffith for expanding on information and proofreading part two.

Lisa Hinton for answering question, after question, and for proof reading the additions.

The Fairs that returned the forms to update information.

Doris Graska for compiling and typing part two.

Charles & Rebecca Panacek of Belle City Amusements for sponsoring the printing of this book.

The facts were gathered from all available sources. Some information was contradictory, rather than leave out information it was included with the hope that at some future date it will be corrected. Perhaps some of those who served as Directors were missed, all Fairs were sent the list to check and add to....still we would like to add them if they were missed. Contact the Federation Office to make any changes to the file that is on the Federation computer in Publisher.

Dear Friends:

Through the years, as a 4-H member, FFA member, State Representative and now as Commissioner of Agriculture, I have supported and participated in Florida fairs. Our fairs provide a way for Floridians to showcase and promote the agricultural and other resources of the State. Each fair reflects the character of its county and of the State.

The most important resource reflected is our people. Exhibits show what we do with our time, how we make a living, our past, and our hopes for the future.

I am proud that the Florida Statutes refer to public fairs as a public trust with fair associations as the Trustee. This history of Florida fairs, prepared by volunteers, summarizes some of the highlights of this public trust, a trust that has been well-served.

Florida fairs have matured and are among the great fairs in our country. I am proud to be associated with our great Florida fairs, along with the fine personnel of the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services.

With warm personal regards, I am

Doyle Conner
Commissioner

HISTORY OF THE FEDERATION OF FLORIDA FAIRS

PREFACE

The Federation, at its 1989 meeting determined it was time for us to seek out our "roots" as an organization, and many elements are missing.

What you are about to review is information which we have been able to document from records, correspondence and meeting minutes as well as from the records of the Federation, which from time to time, we have been unable to locate.

We hope that our fairs, chartered under chapter 616, after reviewing this history, can give us additional input into the Federation, the History of Florida Fairs, of their Fairs, and Fairs which may have come and gone.

HISTORY

In December of 1950, at the urging of J.C. Huskisson, Assistant Manager of the Florida State Fair, Tampa and John Henry Logan, Manager of the Pinellas County Fair, then in Largo, a letter was circulated to all county fairs in Florida.

The letter was authored by Lloyd Rhoden, Secretary Treasurer and Manager, North Florida Fair, Tallahassee and Leon County Extension Agent.

The text invited fair managers to attend a meeting in the Terrazzo room of the Floridan Hotel in Tampa on February 1, 1951, stating "The purpose of this meeting is to discuss among ourselves the advantages and advisability of organizing a State Association of Fairs and Shows the latter alluding to Livestock Shows. Thus, we can document the "Founding Fathers" of our Federation were Lloyd Rhoden, J.C. Huskisson and John Henry Logan.

Nineteen representatives of ten fairs were present along with a representative from the State Extension Service and a "Fair Designer" from Raleigh, North Carolina.

Fairs represented that are still active in Florida were the Florida State Fair, Pinellas County Fair, North Florida Fair, Central Florida Exposition, Pasco County Fair, and the Charlotte County Fair, although this event has no relation to the new Charlotte County Fair which made its debut in January of 1990.

Representatives were also present from the Tobacco Festival and Fair, Quincy (Gadsden County) and the State Livestock and Crops Pavilion in Jackson County.

Lloyd Rhoden was appointed Temporary Chairman of the State Association of Fairs and Expositions and the next meeting was set for March 29 of the same year at Silver Springs.

By that time, the organization had a new name, "Florida Association of Fairs, Livestock Shows and Expositions" and representatives of ten events and associations were in attendance.

Represented were the Florida State Fair, State Extension Service, Florida Marketing Bureau, Sumter All Fla. Breeders Show, Southeastern Festival, Inc., Central Florida Exposition, Citrus County Fair, North Florida Fair, Charlotte County and the Strawberry Festival of Plant City.

At this meeting communications were reviewed from Pensacola, Quincy, Marianna and Eustis pledging support for the fledgling group, and a third organizational meeting was set for May 14, 1951 at which time by-laws would be adopted and officers and directors elected. This meeting was held in Orlando at the Angebilt Hotel.

The meeting was held as scheduled and the first slate of Officers and Directors was elected. They were;

C. T. Bickford, Orlando;	President
John Henry Logan, Clearwater;	1st. District V.P.
Gordon Ellis, Hilliard;	2nd. District V.P.

George E. Dryden, Marianna;	3rd. District V.P.
W.E. Goerne, Ft. Lauderdale;	4th. District V.P.
W.E. Ellis, Ocala	5th. District V.P.
Directors at large;
Harry Jack, (city unknown),
J.C. Huskisson, Tampa
Lloyd Rhoden, Tallahassee.

Speakers at that meeting included Rollo E. Singleton, Secretary of the Missouri Association of Fairs and Agricultural Exhibitions to discuss organization and purpose; H.G. Clayton, Director, Cooperative Extension Service, University of Florida, who gave his concept of the purposes and objectives of such an organization and Karl Lehman, Manager of the Lake County Fair and Sportsman's Exhibition who reviewed problems involved in holding fairs, shows and expositions.

Activities adjourned with the scheduling of the "Annual Meeting", Monday December 10 at Winter Haven.

Thirty persons attended this meeting including what could well be defined as our first "Associate Members", Mutual Advertising Agency of Miami Beach, Mahaffey Bros. Tent and Awning Co., Memphis, Tennessee and Royal Crown Shows of Tarpon Springs.

Auditing, nominating, program and resolutions committees were formed.

Reports were heard from previously formed committees including Legislative, Carnival and By-Laws committees and an afternoon session consisted of a "1951 Version" of today's round table discussions.

Dues at this time for members and associates (merely grouped with members) was $25.00 per year.

Honorary Memberships were recommended for representatives of the University system, and Agriculture related state agencies, the Attorney General and State Comptroller.

In the early years, the title "Short Course" was given to the annual meeting and in the 1952-53 period, the organization had a total of 23 fairs. Some of them no longer are in existence, i.e.;

Gadsden Co. Fair & Tobacco Festival, Quincy, S.E. Florida Youth Show, Belle Glade and Jefferson County Fair, Monticello. A predecessor of the Charlotte County Fair also belonged as did the Nassau County Fair which is now the Northeast Florida Fair in Callahan.

At some point prior to December of 1952 the name of our organization became "Florida Federation of Fairs, Livestock Shows and Expositions", with the word "Federation" replacing "Association" in our title.

At the 1952 meeting, records indicate a motion was made that the Federation pursue the legislature, seeking legislation defining a fair.

Documentation of the organization and its activities from this period until 1975 could not be found, however, we have been able to research a reasonably accurate listing of Presidents, but a listing nonetheless that may be open to revision.

During this period, the Federation also addressed involvement in a great many Livestock Shows, Breed Shows, and other exhibitions of an agricultural nature, but not necessarily fairs as we know them today.

In 1975, the Federation had 42 member fairs, 8 member Livestock Shows and 34 associate members and met each April in Gainesville.

The programs of the meeting in that time frame are not unlike the programs which comprise the annual meetings we have at this point in time.

Of the 42 member fairs, Levy County, Seminole County, Hillsborough County Jr. Agricultural Fairs and Sumter All Florida Breeders Show at Wildwood no longer exist.

Among the member Livestock Shows, only two remain, the Southeastern Livestock Show at Ocala and the Suwannee River Livestock Show at Fanning Springs.

In 1977, the Legislature created the Bureau of Public Fairs and Expositions with the stated intent to protect the legitimate county fairs of the State of Florida. The bureau became effective on July 1 addressing many of the functions it addresses today such as safety inspection, and Chapter 616 as it was in form at that time.

Articles of Incorporation for the Florida Federation of Fairs and Livestock Shows were filed in 1977 under the guidance of President Darwin Fuchs.

The schedule of Florida Fairs and Livestock Shows belonging to the Federation in 1977-78 included 42 member fairs and livestock shows.

There were 33 Officers, Directors (Past Presidents), Honorary Life Directors and Honorary Directors and three Junior Directors. We had 40 Associate Members.

From that period to the present day there were occasional changes in by-laws but the overall structure of the Florida Federation of Fairs and Livestock Shows is pretty much intact today as it was then.

In 1989 we had 45 member fairs and 140 Associate Members. With the burgeoning growth of Associates we also implemented a Trade Show in conjunction with the annual Short Course in the mid 1980's.

There are many important events which have not found their way onto these pages of the history of our organization for lack of documentation and we sincerely hope member fairs will help us to fill in the voids in the future.

Respectfully Submitted;
Historical Committee

HISTORY OF FLORIDA FAIRS AND LIVESTOCK SHOWS

The city of Jacksonville enjoys the position as the first city in the Sunshine State to hold a fair. In an effort to stimulate the local economy, the event got under way in 1876. Over 1,000 visitors attended Florida's first "State" fair that year. We know this event today as the Greater Jacksonville Agricultural Fair.

Florida's oldest "County" fair, the Dade County Fair was born in the City of Miami in 1897. Henry Morrison Flagler's Florida East Coast Railroad paid all expenses during the fair's first years of existence. This was the forerunner of what we now call the Dade County Youth Fair and Exposition which was chartered in 1952. The Dade County Youth Fair and Exposition is the largest youth fair in the world.

The Florida State Fair in Tampa is an outgrowth of the South Florida Fair Association which was founded in 1904. In 1975 the State of Florida officially designated this annual event as the Florida State Fair. Over 858,000 people came through the gates in 1990 making this the second largest crowd of all time for the Fair. Attendees travel from around the U.S. and some 39 foreign countries.

Lisa Hinton Named 2015 Woman of the Year in Agriculture

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – Commissioner of Agriculture Adam H. Putnam announced today that Lisa Hinton, a fifth generation Floridian, has been named the 2015 Woman of the Year in Agriculture. Lisa Hinton has dedicated herself to the advancement of Florida agriculture, agriculture education and youth programs. The award, now in its 31st year, recognizes women who have made outstanding contributions to Florida agriculture.

"Lisa Hinton is a true advocate for Florida agriculture and the programs she has implemented and the individuals she has inspired will have a lasting impact on Florida agriculture for generations to come," said Commissioner Adam H. Putnam. "I am proud to recognize her as the 2015 Woman of the Year in Agriculture, and I want to thank her for her years of dedicated service and contributions to agriculture and to all of Florida."

Hinton grew up on a seed harvesting and cow-calf operation where she spent most of her summers working and developed an appreciation and respect for agriculture. When the National FFA Organization voted to allow female membership in 1970, a young Hinton jumped at the opportunity to join. She became the first female to be elected a State

FFA officer in Florida. Hinton then went to the University of Florida where she graduated with a B.S. in Agricultural Education.

Hinton had an immeasurable impact on Florida's youth programs while serving as the Director of Agribusiness for the Florida State Fair. Hinton placed a high priority on livestock education and her philosophy of "we're raising kids not animals" led to the development of the Champion Youth Program at the Florida State Fair. The program has gained national recognition as a valuable teaching tool for the future contributors to the agriculture industry. In addition to the Champion Youth Program, Hinton also played a role in developing and implementing other important programs, such as the Youth Steer Futurity that showcases Florida cattle, Ag-Venture and the Youth Livestock Show Ethics Certifications.

After her retirement from the Florida State Fair, Hinton then promoted agricultural education on a state and national level by serving as the Executive Director of the Florida Federation of Fairs. In this role, she is able to impact the direction of 52 agricultural fairs in the state of Florida as well as over 200 associate members.

As a result of her dedication to Florida agriculture, education and youth programs, Hinton was inducted into the Florida 4-H Hall of Fame in 2002 and the Florida Federation of Fairs Hall of Fame in 2009.

The Woman of the Year in Agriculture award is sponsored by the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services and the Florida State Fair Authority and presented to the recipient Monday, February 8th at the 2016 Florida State Fair in Tampa.

SALES TAX EXEMPTION HISTORY

By Darwin Fuchs

For years, the Florida Department of Revenue ("DOR") had a standing order to collect sales tax from all ride operators and concession operators who contracted for space at Florida fairs. Most, if not all, local DOR agents collected the tax due on concession space. However, tax from ride revenue paid to fairs by rider operators was selectively enforced by DOR agents. Thus leaving the fair industry and ride operators to guess whether they should collect and remit sales tax. At one point, Conklin Shows was advised that it owed revenue earned at the Miami-Dade County Fair & Exposition retro-actively. Needless to say, the amount due was substantial. The law firm of Foster & Fuchs was retained by the Federation to work with Conklin Show's attorney to try and resolve the issue. John Foster and E. Darwin Fuchs, chairman of the legislative committee and the Federation's President Don Frenkel, went to Tallahassee and met with the Department of Revenue representatives in an attempt to gain clarification on how the sales and use tax laws would be enforced and interpreted. After considerable and lengthy negotiations, it was determined that the only thing that could resolve the issue was to pass legislation exempting fair associations from the sales and use tax.

Thereafter, the Federation's Board of Directors approved the following: (a) Hire a lobbyist; (b) Raise the required funds Federation members, including ride operators and concessionaires, to pass the proposed legislation through the legislature.

In 1995, tax exempt legislation was approved by both the House and Senate. However, the exemption was vetoed by Governor Lawton Chiles. The following year, at the next legislative session, the mission was accomplished and the sales tax exemption was passed clarifying the law.

In all, Florida Fairs, ride operators and concessionaires contributed approximately $150,000 to save the industry from the years of costly litigation over sales tax that would ultimately have resulted in the demise of a number of smaller fairs. While much of the money went for lobbyist, legal fees and campaign contributions, there was a substantial sum left that has provided a nice war chest to continue battling legislative and regulatory efforts to protect the Fair industry in Florida.

FEDERATION IN JEOPARDY

By Darwin Fuchs

From the Federation's beginning it was a well known fact that certain members from a certain sector of the state were controlling the organization. A few members decided who would serve on the Board of Directors, and controlled all operational aspects of the Federation's business.

In 1978 when the nominating committee made it's recommendation for election of directors, and then asked for any recommendations from the floor a representative of the newly chartered Florida Council of Fairs requested, and was granted, permission to speak. He outlined the Council's members' grievances with the way the Federation was being run and controlled by a select few people and was not representative of all Florida Fairs. He then proposed the Council's slate of directors. A major debate ensued and lasted for at least three hours before a Board of Directors was finally elected.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, newly elected president E. Darwin Fuchs called for a joint meeting of the executive committees of both the Federation and Council members. After much discussion and debate, it was agreed that the Association needed to have total state representation. With that understood, Fuchs proposed the following:

1. The state be broken into zones, with a director being elected from each zone.
2. With the understanding the President would appoint a nominating committee from each zone. Each committee would then make their recommendation to serve on the board at the annual meeting.

With that understanding, it was agreed the Council's charter would be dissolved.

Directors continued to be elected by this method until 2005 and are now elected as follows, assuring state-wide representation.

At large members: 6

Small Fairs: 2 (attendance less than 50,000)

Medium Fairs: 2 (attendance 50,000—400,000)

Large Fairs: 2 (attendance greater than 400,000)

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING Between Florida Federation of Fairs And University of Florida - IFAS - Extension

The Florida Federation of Fairs believes that the University of Florida - IFAS - Extension program has a vital role in the development and implementation of agricultural and youth programs relating to Fairs in Florida. As a commitment to that belief, the Florida Federation of Fairs encourages Fairs to:

Include local Extension staff on the Fair Board in an ex-officio capacity (where applicable) so that they have a voice in the decision making process.

Support age appropriate 4-H youth development standards in the design and implementation of fair rules and regulations, including proper use of the 4-H Name and Emblem.

Support active educational involvement of Extension staff (in coordinating demonstrations, manning booths, and assistance in running events) by providing credentials for access to the Fair and other conveniences when possible (i.e. parking, etc.), Develop relationships between IFAS Extension, 4-H, and Fair Committees (e.g. Livestock, General projects, etc.) to enhance the quality of the exhibit experience for youth, volunteers, and adults.

Provide year-round support of the Extension program by working cooperatively with Extension in providing facilities, etc. for Extension events at reduced or free rental rates.

The University of Florida - IFAS - Extension believes that Florida Fairs are effective venues for providing educational programs related to agriculture, family life and youth development. As a commitment to that belief Extension encourages its faculty, staff and stakeholders to:

Utilize the facilities of the state and local fairs to present educational programs and demonstrations.

Serve on fair boards and advisory committees in an ex-officio manner to foster cooperation and understanding between Fair Boards and Extension.

Work cooperatively with Fair Boards and their committees in the development of parameters for youth program exhibits and demonstrations within the policies and practices of the Florida 4-H program and USDA 4-H Name and Emblem requirements.

Promote attendance to fairs to recognize youth and adult achievements, and to increase public awareness of the importance of agriculture to the state's economy and the well-being of the citizens of the state.

Develop close working relationships with staff of state and local fairs as means to enhance communication and avoid conflicts of scheduling or program rules.

We, Florida Fairs and Extension, believe that the common objectives between our organizations (a. to educate the public on the importance of agriculture, and b. to recognize the quality work of 4-H members) are best served by our mutual agreement to work cooperatively, efficiently and effectively. This effort serves both organizations well and enhances the benefit to the public.

The History Continues.....

In the 20 years since the original history was written, much has changed and much has remained the same.

As stated previously, “there are many important events which have not found their way onto these pages of the history of our organization for lack of documentation.” There are several missing years, years where no minutes can be found, or any other records from that earlier period.

In the 1980s auctions were held at the President’s Party to fund scholarships for the Fair Management program at Georgia State. The auctions are still held but the scholarships have changed.

The trade show has steadily increased and is only limited by the space at the host hotel each year. The Trade Show started in 1987 with a budget of $2,000 to cover pipe & drape and security. A table and chair was provided for $50.00, electricity was extra. The lowest number of booths was 36 in 1997 and the highest was 92 in 2016, in 2022 there were 105 booths.

In the early 1950s the date of the Annual Meeting (known as Annual Short Course) was in December, in the mid 50s it moved to the middle of May, in the 70s it moved to the middle to end of April and in 2008 the Thursday after Mother’s Day was established.. The Site Selection Committee (Chairman, President, 1st Vice President, Executive Secretary) select the place for the Annual Meeting for the next five years (with approval of the Board of Directors). The President and Executive Director select the meals. Meeting locations have been selected through 2026.

Through the years over many individuals have served on the Board of Directors. As stated earlier, there are missing years, therefore many missing names. All of the current member Fairs were contacted to try and fill in the blanks.

The Federation has been fortunate in having had only six Executive Directors during the past several years, the 7th one was hired in 2019. Dan West, former manager of the Manatee County Fair in Palmetto.

Traditionally the duties of the officers (besides those stated in the by-laws) are: Secretary/Treasurer: Showcase Committee, 2nd Vice President: Summer Workshop Committee, 1st. Vice President, Annual Meeting Planning. President & Executive Director in charge of overall oversight of all committees and Federation activities and events.

Showcases are an important part of the annual meeting. Participants must be a member in good standing of the Florida Federation of Fairs and listed in the current Directory and have not showcased in the past three years. Only three acts may be submitted by an agent. Rules have changed.

Over the years we have had hundreds of showcases. Some who have gotten notoriety have been Casey Lunn Hasak of Naples who was the teen winner on Star Search in 1991. Terry Fator won American's Got Talent in 2007. Taylor Ware was a finalist on America's Got Talent and went on to appear on many national TV shows. There are others who have become successful.

In 1990 President George Frazer met in Gainesville with the Department of Agriculture and was one of six members of a "Fair Council" to discuss Chapter 616. Others were Farm Bureau, FFA, 4H/ State Cooperative Extension Office.

PREMIUM CHECKS

Premium checks issued by a Fair and not cashed become unclaimed property and must be paid to the state? Some Fairs have already had to remit the amount of outstanding checks to the state.

To avoid this liability the following wording should be included on the checks and on the applications for entries.

Language for checks for premium monies:

This check is void if not negotiated within 90 days from the date hereof and all sums held on payee's behalf by payor shall constitute an irrevocable gift of said amount by payee to payor.

Language for applications for entries:

All checks for premium monies awarded in connection with the Fair shall be negotiated by the recipient/payee within 90 days from the date of the check, time being of the essence. If the recipient/payee fails to timely negotiate said check, all monies due recipient/payee shall belong to the Fair and the recipient/payee shall be deemed to have made an unconditional and irrevocable gift of said monies to the Fair.

The mission of the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services is to safeguard the public and support Florida's agricultural economy by:
Ensuring the safety and wholesomeness of food and other consumer products through inspection and testing programs;
Protecting consumers from unfair and deceptive business practices and providing consumer information;
Assisting Florida's farmers and agricultural industries with the production and promotion of agricultural products; and Conserving and protecting the state's agricultural and natural resources by reducing wildfires, promoting environmentally safe agricultural practices, and managing public lands.

PART I

GENERAL PROVISIONS (ss. 616.001-616.24)

PART II

TRADE AND SAFETY STANDARDS (ss. 616.241, 616.242)

PART I

GENERAL PROVISIONS

The entire chapter can be found at Florida Legislature

616.17 Minimum exhibits.--

(1) No public fair or exposition conducted by a fair association may be approved by the department for a tax exemption certificate unless the fair or exposition displays the following minimum exhibits, but this requirement may not be construed as a limitation on the number of exhibits which the fair or exposition may have:

- (a) Three exhibits from 4-H Clubs or Future Farmers of America chapters which are officially approved by those clubs or chapters.
- (b) Three exhibits of community, individual, or county farm displays.
- (c) Three exhibits of field crops in at least three different crops.
- (d) Three exhibits of horticultural products.

(e) Three culinary exhibits such as canned fruits, canned vegetables, canned pickles or juices, jams, jellies, cakes, bread, candies, or eggs.

(f) Three exhibits of household arts such as homemade spreads, towels, luncheon sets, rugs, clothing, or baby apparel.

(g) Three exhibits of fruit or vegetable crops in at least three different crops.

(h) Three exhibits of arts, crafts, photography, or antiques or of scout handiwork.

(i) Three exhibits from home demonstration, home economics, educational, religious, or civic groups.

(j) Three exhibits of livestock such as dairy cows, beef cattle, hogs, sheep, poultry, horses, or mules.

(2) The provisions of subsection (1) do not apply to specialized livestock shows or fruit or vegetable festivals, the minimum exhibits of which shall be as follows:

(a) Each specialized livestock show shall consist of at least 50 head of animals or 300 head of poultry.

(b) Each specialized fruit, vegetable, or crop festival or exposition shall consist of at least 50 entries in the specialty, which shall occupy at least 1,000 square feet of display area.

(3) The department may provide a waiver to the minimum exhibit requirements of this section to any fair association that submits an application for the waiver to the department, at least 60 days prior to the annual public fair or exposition in need of the waiver, and shows good cause why the requirements of this section cannot be met.

“Additional Powers of Fairs”

by Foster & Fuchs

In Chapter 616, which governs public fairs and expositions, there is a section which lists the powers of a fair association. It is interesting to note the Florida Legislature has empowered a fair association to do more than just hold a fair. Specifically, Section 616.08 of the Florida Statutes provides:

Every fair association shall have the power to hold, conduct, and operate public fairs and expositions annually and for such purpose to buy, lease, acquire, and occupy lands, erect buildings and improvements of all kinds thereon, and develop those lands, buildings, and improvements; to sell, mortgage, lease, or convey any such property or any part thereof, in its discretion, from time to time for the purpose of public fairs or expositions; to charge and receive compensation for admission to those fairs and expositions, for the sale or renting of space for exhibitions, and for other privileges; to conduct and hold public meetings; to supervise and conduct lectures and all kinds of demonstration work in connection with or for the improvement of agriculture, horticulture, stock raising and poultry raising, and all kinds of farming and matters connected therewith; to hold exhibits of agricultural and horticultural products and livestock, chickens, and other domestic animals; to give certificates or diplomas of excellence; to promote the progress of the geographical area it represents and serves and stimulate public interest in the advantages and development of that area by providing facilities for agricultural and industrial exhibitions, public gatherings, cultural activities, and other functions which the association determines will enhance the educational, physical, economic, and cultural interests of the public; and generally to do, perform, and carry out all matters, acts, and business usual or proper in connection with public fairs and expositions.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

Article I—Purpose

The purpose of the conflict of interest policy is to protect this tax-exempt organization's (Organization) interest when it is contemplating entering into a transaction or arrangement that might benefit the private interest of an officer or director of the Organization, or might result in a possible excess benefit transaction. This policy is intended to supplement but not replace any applicable state and federal laws governing conflict of interest applicable to nonprofit and charitable organizations.

Article II—Definitions

1. Interested Person - Any director, principal officer, or member of a committee with governing board delegated powers, who has a direct or indirect financial interest, as defined below, is an interested person.

2. Financial Interest - A person has a financial interest if the person has, directly or indirectly, through business, investment, or family:

a. An ownership or investment interest in any entity with which the Organization has a transaction or arrangement, or

b. A compensation arrangement with the Organization or with any entity or individual with which the Organization has a transaction or arrangement, or

c. A potential ownership or investment interest in, or compensation arrangement with, any entity or individual with which the Organization is negotiating a transaction or arrangement.

Compensation includes direct and indirect remuneration, as well as gifts or favors that are not insubstantial.

A financial interest is not necessarily a conflict of interest. Under Article III, Section 2, a person who has a financial interest may have a conflict of interest only if the appropriate governing board or committee decides that a conflict of interest exists.

Article III—Procedures

1. Duty to Disclose. In connection with any actual or possible conflict of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence of the financial interest and be given the opportunity to disclose all material facts to the directors and members of committees with governing board delegated powers considering the proposed transaction or arrangement.

2. Determining Whether a Conflict of Interest Exists. After disclosure of the financial interest and all material facts, and after any discussion with the interested person, he/she shall leave the governing board or committee meeting while the determination of a conflict of interest is discussed and voted upon. The remaining board or committee members shall decide if a conflict of interest exists.

3. Procedures for Addressing the Conflict of Interest.

a. An interested person may make a presentation at the governing board or committee meeting, but after the presentation, he/she shall leave the meeting during the discussion of and the voted on, the transaction or arrangement involving the possible conflict of interest.

b. The chairperson of the governing board or committee shall, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement.

c. After exercising due diligence, the governing board or committee shall determine whether the Organization can obtain with reasonable efforts a more advantageous transaction or arrangement from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest.

d. If a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably possible under circumstances not producing a conflict of interest, the governing board or committee shall determine by a majority vote of the disinterested directors whether the transaction or arrangement is in the Organization's best interest, for its own benefit, and whether it is fair and reasonable. In conformity with the above determination it shall make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement.

4. Violations of the Conflicts of Interest Policy.

b. If, after hearing the member's response and after making further investigation as warranted by the circumstances, the governing board or committee determines the member failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, it shall take appropriate disciplinary and corrective action.

Article IV—Records of Proceedings

The minutes of the governing board and all committees with board delegated powers shall contain:

a. The names of the persons who disclosed or otherwise were found to have a financial interest in connection with an actual or possible conflict of interest, the nature of the financial interest, any action taken to determine whether a conflict of interest was present, and the governing board's or committee's decision as to whether a conflict of interest in fact existed.

b. The names of the persons who were present for discussions and votes relating to the transaction or arrangement, the content of the discussion, including any alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement, and a record of any votes taken in connection with the proceedings.

Article V—Compensation

a. A voting member of the governing board who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Organization for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.

b. A voting member of any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Organization for services is precluded from voting on matters pertaining to that member's compensation.

c. No voting member of the governing board or any committee whose jurisdiction includes compensation matters and who receives compensation, directly or indirectly, from the Organization, either individually or collectively, is prohibited from providing information to any committee regarding compensation.

Article VI—Annual Statements

Each director, principal officer and member of a committee with governing board delegated powers shall annually sign a statement which affirms such person:

- a. Has received a copy of the conflicts of interest policy,
- b. Has read and understands the policy,
- c. Has agreed to comply with the policy, and
- d. Understands the Organization is charitable and in order to maintain its federal tax exemption it must engage primarily in activities which accomplish one or more of its tax-exempt purposes.

Article VII- Periodic Reviews

To ensure the Organization operates in a manner consistent with charitable purposes and does not engage in activities that could jeopardize its tax-exempt status, periodic reviews shall be conducted. The periodic reviews shall, at a minimum, include the following subjects:

- a. Whether compensation arrangements and benefits are reasonable, based on competent survey information, and the result of arm's length bargaining.
- b. Whether partnerships, joint ventures, and arrangements with management organizations conform to the Organization's written policies, are properly recorded, reflect reasonable investment or payments for goods and services, further charitable purposes and do not result in inurement, impermissible private benefit, or in an excess benefit transaction.

Article VIII -Use of Outside Experts

When conducting the periodic reviews as provided for in Article VII, the Organization may, but need not, use outside advisors. If outside experts are used, their use shall not relieve the governing board of its responsibility for ensuring periodic reviews are conducted.
