Rodeo contestants heat up Dickies Arena in Frigid Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Texas Feb. 3, 2022 — While it was cold, icy and miserable outside at the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo (FWSSR), the climate inside Dickies Arena was filled with the heat of competition.

In the first of two Semi-Finals, the contestants that advanced from Wild Card Wednesday ended up at the top of the leaderboard in most of the events. It started with the bareback riding where Clayton Biglow got his second consecutive check. Biglow, the 2019 world champion rode Calgary Stampede's You See Me for 87.5 points. That was good enough for a third-place finish and a spot in Saturday's championship finals.

A pair of Utah residents split the win in the bareback riding. Mason Clements from Spanish Fork rode J Bar J's Yum Bugs. Kaycee Feild, the reigning and world champion from Genola also got on a horse from J Bar J, Soul Lunatic. They each scored 89.5 points and won $3,500 each.

Tacy Webb, the nurse from midway, Texas, won the breakaway roping for the second night in a row. She stopped the clock in 2.1 seconds, one-tenth of a second faster than her time on Wednesday. Webb got a check for $4,000 and is roping for her first title from the FWSSR ProRodeo Tournament.

Steer wrestler Rowdy Parrott from Mamou, Louisiana is getting used to doing winner's interviews. Parrott was the last steer wrestler of the night, stopped the clock in 3.1 seconds and added $4,000 to his checking account. He also won the Wild Card on Wednesday.

Stetson Wright of Milford, Utah, had struggles at the beginning of the rodeo tournament, but is finishing strong. He won the saddle bronc riding during the Wild Card and came back and got another win with a 92-point score. Wright, the reigning world champion, got on Calgary Stampede's great bucking horse Y U R Friskey for the win.

In the tie-down roping, Cory Solomon from Prairie View, Texas, who won the Wild Card, finished in fourth place to advance to the finals. Local favorite Marty Yates finished at the top of the board with 8.1 second run. That earned the Stephenville, Texas resident $4,000.

Jake Orman from Prairie, Mississippi and Brye Crites from Welch, Oklahoma had the fast time in the team roping at 4.1 seconds. They each earned $4,000 on Thursday night. The barrel racing winner lives just west of here at Weatherford. Stevi Hillman and her mare Famous Lemon Drop stopped the clock in 16.40 seconds for the win.

There were two successful bull riders on Thursday and one of them is the winningest bull rider in recent history in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association. Sage Kimzey, originally from Oklahoma but now living in Salado, Texas, is notching rodeo win after rodeo win. He has earned seven gold buckles and is working towards number eight. There are several rodeos still on his bucket list even though he has amassed well over $2.5 million in career earnings. After winning the Semi-Finals on Thursday, he is one step closer to marking a championship at the Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo off his list.

The second Semi-Finals will be Friday at 7:30 where the final four qualifiers for Saturday night's Championship Finals will be determined.
