Definitions:

- Fashion makeup: Fashion makeup is used in magazine photography as well as on the fashion runway. Avant-garde makeup is also an applicable technique used for projects that require experimental themes. Fashion makeup is also commonly used in television & film ranging for the natural prime look to more sophisticated applications such as color balance.
- Theatrical makeup: Stage makeup is used as a method in conjunction with stage lighting to highlight the actors' faces in order make expressions visible to the audience from moderate distances. This often includes defining the eyes & lips as well as the highlights & lowlights of the facial bones.
- Special effects makeup (FX makeup): The use of special effects techniques enhancing physical features to exhibit metaphysical characteristics as well as fantasy makeup. The use of prosthetics & plaster casting are also required for projects that entails non-human appearances. Accents such as theatrical blood & ooze are also techniques applicable to this type of makeup.
- Airbrushing: The use of an airbrush which is a small air-operated device that sprays various media including alcohol & water-based makeup by a process of nebulization. Liquid foundations that are high in coverage but thin in texture are applied with the airbrush for full coverage without a heavy build-up of product.
- Special occasion makeup: Special occasion makeup is a new segment in a makeup artist's repertoire. From ethnic, to glamorous, to contemporary, makeup artists are now an important part of event planning.
- High definition: This is an art which involves the use of light reflectors & ingredients such as minerals to give the skin a flawless finish. This was developed due to the further development of high definition mediums & the cost implications of airbrush makeup.
- Character makeup: Is used to create a character to the extent of changing a subject's physical configuration to suit the requirements of a script. It encompasses a great deal: varying age levels, character delineation, personality traits, unusual facial features, symbolic figures, men's facial hair application, cuts, scars, bruises, burns, tattoos, disfigurements, horror designs, & anything on the face or body that is created without embellishing or enhancing the corrective &/or beauty aspects of the human face or figure.

Definitions:

- Fashion makeup: Fashion makeup is used in magazine photography as well as on the fashion runway. Avant-garde makeup is also an applicable technique used for projects that require experimental themes. Fashion makeup is also commonly used in television & film ranging from the natural prime look to more sophisticated applications such as color balance.
- Theatrical makeup: Stage makeup is used as a method in conjunction with stage lighting to highlight the actors' faces in order to make expressions visible to the audience from moderate distances. This often includes defining the eyes & lips as well as the highlights & lowlights of the facial bones.
- Special effects makeup (FX makeup): The use of special effects techniques enhancing physical features to exhibit metaphysical characteristics as well as fantasy makeup. The use of prosthetics & plaster casting are also required for projects that entail non-human appearances. Accents such as theatrical blood & ooze are also techniques applicable to this type of makeup.
- Airbrushing: The use of an airbrush which is a small air-operated device that sprays various media including alcohol & water-based makeup by a process of nebulization. Liquid foundations that are high in coverage but thin in texture are applied with the airbrush for full coverage without a heavy build-up of product.
- Special occasion makeup: Special occasion makeup is a new segment in a makeup artist's repertoire. From ethnic, to glamorous, to contemporary, makeup artists are now an important part of event planning.
- High definition: This is an art which involves the use of light reflectors & ingredients such as minerals to give the skin a flawless finish. This was developed due to the further development of high definition mediums & the cost implications of airbrush makeup.
- Character makeup: Is used to create a character to the extent of changing a subject's physical configuration to suit the requirements of a script. It encompasses a great deal: varying age levels, character delineation, personality traits, unusual facial features, symbolic figures, men's facial hair application, cuts, scars, bruises, burns, tattoos, disfigurements, horror designs, & anything on the face or body that is created without embellishing or enhancing the corrective &/or beauty aspects of the human face or figure.
