Resilience and Regeneration

January 25, 2019 | 8:30 am - 4 pm

Latah County Fairgrounds & Events Center, Moscow ID

Featuring keynote storyteller

Merna Ann Hecht, poet, gardener, & author of Our Table of Memories

Learn about resilience & regeneration in our local food shed, hear stories that weave together our heritage & our future of food in the Palouse-Clearwater region, and help build food alliances to leverage local food access. Keynote Merna Hecht will demonstrate the power of poetry and storytelling to inspire change. Afternoon round table sessions will engage participants in the art of sharing stories to strengthen our local food system by building relationships and new collaborations.

An onsite Children's Activity Room will be geared for ages K-8. Scholarships available. As part of this year's Summit, we will host a food drive for our local food banks and a hygiene drive that will benefit migrant farm workers in Idaho and Washington.
