Creating Connections Through Cohesive Wellness - Things to Keep #WellnessWednesday

As we navigate the new meetings norm, we would love to hear from you! We know some of you have held successful virtual events this year and others are planning them in the fall. Are there successes (or even failures) that you can share to help others navigate the process?

What are the components of the virtual event that you will keep in place when we can meet again in person? While we have outlines for hybrid events, we want to make sure we are meeting all of your needs.

Collaborating with other venues during this time has been a beneficial and rewarding experience for our team but we know you have great ideas as well! If you are willing to share them please email Tracy Thornton, Director of Sales & Events by August 20 and we will include your ideas in an upcoming #WellnessWednesday email.

Looking forward to collaborating!
