On September 14th Tim Rice the current NLBRA President sent out the following email:

NLBRA Board Of Directors:

After a lot of consideration around the time commitment it takes to serve on the board, not to mention serving as President of an organization like the NLBRA, I have decided to step away from the board at this time. The balancing the responsibilities of my service to NLBRA on top of trying to be the best husband and father I can be has proven to be a very difficult at best, and that is before I ever get to trying to run a successful business.

I realize this is a battle we all face, when we serve on the NLBRA board, where the demands on our time and energy can be extreme, which is why I feel at this time it is not only in my best interest, but in the best interest of the NLBRA organization that I step away. I 100% believe in the organization and the opportunity it provides the membership to chase their rodeo dreams and grow both inside and out of the arena, and in no way would I want to hinder that opportunity, by staying on and not being 100% committed to giving it be best.

The timing is never really good to make this move, but I feel like with the upcoming board meeting at the end of the month, it will allow you guys to come together and set a new course with the leadership team of the organization and make the 2023 NLBRA finals the best yet.

It has been a privilege to serve with all of you, and I count all of you as friends, and look forward to watching the continued success of the NLBRA organization as a whole.

Sincerely,

Tim Rice

Billy Nelson who is the current Vice President who will take over the role of President per the NLBRA 2022-2023 Rule book requested everyone look it over and if agreed we would need a motion and a second and everyone to vote to accept Tim's Letter of resignation.
