POULTRY GENERAL RULES:

1. The management shall have the right to refuse entry to the showroom or to remove from the same, all diseased or unsightly birds and the Superintendent is expected to avail him/herself of this right.
2. 4-H Exhibitors must show in Fitting and Showing to show in Type and to receive any premiums in the Poultry Division.
3. The latest edition of the American Standard of Perfection will be the guide for the judge and his/her decision shall be final.
4. The Fair Association reserves the right to put more than one specimen in a coop, providing the birds belong to the same exhibitor.
5. 4-H animals will be judged on the Danish system. The judge will not award a first on any specimen unless it is worthy of a premium.
6. Feeding, watering, and caring for all exhibits will be under the supervision of the Superintendent. Due diligence will be shown against fire, theft, or injury, but the Fair Association will not be liable for damage or loss.
7. Birds selling in the Lynden Junior Livestock Sale must stay on the fairgrounds all 10 days of Fair, the exhibitor will need to feed, clean, and care for their birds the second five days.
8. The Fair Association reserves the right to limit the entries when the entries received exceed the accommodation, or 1 entry per class, per exhibitor.
9. All eggs laid during the show will become the property of the Fair Association and will be destroyed.
10. It is recommended that birds be leg-banded for identification purposes.
11. A display is one cock, one cockerel, one hen, one pullet, and one trio (either young or old), all one breed or variety by one exhibitor. A pen is 3 birds.
12. Exhibitors cannot show the same birds in Open Class, 4-H, and/or FFA.

4-H Member Birdsmanship:

1. All exhibitors will be required to do at least two hours of Birdsmanship (feeding, watering, and cleaning) in the poultry barn during the Fair to receive any premiums.
2. Sign up for shifts with the Superintendent in poultry barn.
3. Check in with Superintendent/poultry barn supervisor upon arrival for your shift and before departure.
4. Exhibitors are strongly encouraged to check on their own birds daily. Taking care of hundreds of birds requires a team, especially when it is hot out. Cleaning, feeding, and watering is essential to help the birds survive the stress of being in cages and the heat as well as keeping them looking their best for the public.

DEPARTMENT ROSETTES - NORTHWEST WASHINGTON FAIR ASSOCIATION

TROPHIES SPONSORED BY KULSHAN VETERINARY HOSPITAL AND KEVIN & ROBIN ERICKSON

To all Poultry Lovers showing at the Northwest Washington Fair,

Showing poultry at the NWWF (or any other poultry show) puts your birds at risk of acquiring infectious agents such as viruses, bacteria, and external parasites such as lice and mites. They may be susceptible to diseases they have not encountered before at your own home.

The veterinarians will be checking each bird for symptoms of any illness and will send home any bird they see unfit for show or that put any other birds that enter the fair at risk.

Due to the recent threat of both Avian Flu and Infectious Laryngotracheitis(ILT), do not bring any bird(all waterfowl, chickens, turkeys, game birds or pigeons) that shows signs of sneezing, coughing/wheezing, eye or nasal discharge, open-mouthed breathing or lethargy. If you have had any recent illnesses or deaths in your flock, please do not bring any birds to the fair. This will help reduce the spread of potentially fatal diseases.

Your birds will be healthier and cleaner if you bathe them prior to the fair. For those planning on dusting or spraying their poultry for external parasites, please do so at least a week prior to the Fair. Trying to examine birds that have recently been dusted is dangerous to those doing the inspection and makes inspection much more difficult. See the attached information on bathing your birds prior to show.

LICE-- are tiny, wingless, 6-legged, flat bodied, insects. They lay their eggs on the host bird's feathers, especially near the base of the feather shaft. They spend their entire life cycle on the host bird, primarily in the feathers around the vent area, under the wings and abdomen. Most common treatments include cleaning and disinfecting the house as well as using an approved dust or spray made for poultry. The treatment of the birds must be done 2 weeks apart and ALL birds treated should be repeated as needed (usually 2-3 times.) Permethrin 2 or Prozap Garden and Poultry spray do not require egg or meat withholding times.

MITES--are a whole different problem. They are very tiny and difficult to see with the naked eye. They have 8 legs and most commonly spread through bird-to-bird contact. They suck the blood of the fowl and can live off the host bird for 2-3 weeks. Mites often hide in the cracks and crevices of the poultry house and come out at night and attack your poultry. The life cycle can be as little as 10 days, which allows for a quick turnover and heavy infestations. Birds with mites must all be treated with the off-label use of Ivermectin every 10 days for up to 3-4 treatments as well as complete disinfection of housing, roosts and nesting boxes. Then the house must be completely dried and then all cracks and crevices filled and sealed with a primer/sealer. This is a very time-consuming and costly endeavor. Most birds with mites have observable signs that may include darkening of the feathers on white feathered birds due to mite feces, scabbing of the skin near the vent, and generally an overall ill-thrift appearance of the birds.

The veterinarians inspecting your birds prior to entry at the fair will do their very best to prevent the spread of any infectious diseases as well as external parasites. It is critical to understand that viruses and bacteria as well as external parasites are not easy to identify. Thus, it is best to isolate your birds at least 4-6 weeks after the fair to prevent possible contamination into your home flock, dust or spray all birds with an appropriate poultry dust or spray once you get home and then 2 weeks later and continue to inspect housing and birds for any signs of disease before allowing fair shown birds access to your other poultry for up to 4-6 weeks.
