Albuquerque, NM - Officials with the New Mexico State Fair have released the premium books for the 2022 State Fair. The premium books detail the rules and entry procedures for the many competitions that are hosted at the New Mexico State Fair every year, and are a comprehensive guide to the thousands of New Mexicans who compete in an array of livestock, agriculture, crafts, and art categories.

Premium books for the following departments are now available online:

- Agriculture
- Art Entry
- Car Shows
- Creative Arts
- Home Arts
- Livestock Shows
- Parade

Entries for each department open at different times, so anyone who is interested in competing at this year's New Mexico State Fair is encouraged to review their respective premium book as soon as possible.

"Competition has always been a cornerstone of the New Mexico State Fair," said State Fair General Manager, Dan Mourning. "We look forward to the healthy competition and look forward to showcasing the vast amount of talent New Mexicans bring to the table while chasing that blue ribbon."

The 2022 New Mexico State Fair will take place September 8-18. For more information about this year's State Fair, and to access all 2022 premium books, visit us online at exponm.com.
