FULL SLATE OF SEMINARS SET FOR HERSHEY

KEVIN D. BIEBER

The 2017 convention in Hershey will be opened with yet another great keynote speaker. Dan Waldschmidt is an inspirational speaker who has also been a consultant to some of the top CEO's in the world and has sat on many Boards of these top companies. Dan will bring to us a message of growth and change to the fair industry, he will speak about our challenges and just how to overcome them. As we all know, our industry is changing and posing more and more challenges daily, please plan to come out and listen to recommendations on how to keep our heads held up high and continuing to succeed in our great industry.

Thanks to Bev Gruber, we will once again host Judges School on Wednesday of convention week. Stay tuned as Bev will have more information as we get to our Fall Zone Meetings. Unfortunately due to scheduling conflicts, Jen Puente of the Wisconsin State Fair will not be able to travel to Hershey to present Sponsorship Reviews of your Fair. However, we have scheduled a seminar for Wednesday afternoon titled Livestock Disease Outbreaks at your Fair. Of course we will also update our Showmen friends with another seminar on Trucking Regulations.

Back by popular demand on Thursday will be a repeat presentation of Small Games of Chance at the Fairs. Last year this seminar had plenty of interest and good questions for our presenter, unfortunately we ran out of time before everyone could ask their questions. Thursday will also bring us a seminar on Security and Handguns on the Fairgrounds. Many of you have asked for a seminar of this nature, so bring your questions or concerns and have them answered by the professionals in this industry.

Friday we will bring in Kirby Dygert from the Erie County Fair of New York to speak on Ag Media Communication. I heard Kirby at the most recent IAFE Zone Meeting in New Hampshire, and she provided some great insight on this subject. Karen and Kevin will bring some very important changes to the Special Baking Contest during this Friday afternoon seminar. We are also welcoming Jill Albanese from the Wisconsin State Fair. Jill will bring her presentation to Pennsylvania called "Grand Champion Competitive Exhibits".

To close out the convention on Saturday, Kirby will be back again to speak on Two Organizations with a Common Goal, Same Mission, Working with Livestock Associations. We will also hear from Food Safety and any updates they have to offer as well as Jean Lonie will be back (hopefully without snow this time) to present "Why Think Ag"?

So, as you can see, we have another great agenda of seminars. Please make plans to join us as well as these great speakers in Hershey.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

As usual, once fair season began it seems that the summer just flew by. I was able to visit several fairs this year that I had never been to before. Every fair provides wholesome family entertainment for the public as well as promoting agriculture and each one does it in their own unique way. Pennsylvania should be proud of its county fairs. Of course some fairs had some rain but the biggest problem this year was "HEAT". Most fairs experienced some decrease in attendance during the hot midday temperatures. Vendors generally complained that food sales were low on the extremely hot days. At the time of this writing, cooler fall temperatures have arrived. Fairs that are still to be held should benefit from these sunny but cooler days.

Now it's time to be thinking about our fall meetings and convention. Every fair has people that should be nominated for State Fair Person of the Year, Zone Person of the Year and Junior Zone Person of the Year. We all have people at our fairs that are most deserving of these awards for the efforts they put forth to make our fairs a success.

Your PSACF officers will be in attendance at all Zone Meetings to keep you up to date on concerns of the Association and the latest plans for Convention. Once again, the committees have a great convention planned with great speakers, judges school, a full slate of table topics, a huge trade show and lots of entertainment. The Spouse's Program and the State Fair Queen Coronation will round out the convention. But to me, one of the best parts of the convention is the time spent visiting and reminiscing with other fair people and old friends. It seems almost like "going to the county fair". See you at convention.

Overview

Pennsylvania lawmakers are heading into the final stretch of the current legislative session and the clock is ticking for the passage of legislation. The session ends November 30, but lawmakers have refrained from passing bills after Election Day in recent years. Between now and then, the Senate is scheduled for 9 days and the House is scheduled for 12 days.

Combatting the opioid abuse epidemic, pension reform and expansion of gaming are among the issues left in limbo before the summer break. With the pressure of the November 8 general election around the corner, it is unclear what will be accomplished. Any legislation left unresolved will need to be reintroduced in January when a new legislative session begins. The House returns to session September 19 and the Senate returns September 26.

Budget/Revenue

Pennsylvania's fiscal year started July 1. Lawmakers avoided another lengthy impasse and sent an on-time budget bill to Governor Tom Wolf's desk. Negotiations on how to pay for the $31.53 billion budget stretched into mid-July. Despite the budget challenges facing the state, we are happy to report that Pennsylvania's fairs were funded with a state appropriation of $4 million.

To balance the spending plan, lawmakers approved a $1.3 billion revenue package. The package includes one-time revenue sources, relies on pending legislation to legalize internet gaming and allows tax delinquents to pay back taxes without penalty. It includes higher taxes on banks and also increases the tax on cigarettes from $1.60 to $2.60 per pack, imposes a 55-cents-per-ounce tax on roll-your-own tobacco and smokeless tobacco, and sets a 40 percent tax on the wholesale price of electronic cigarettes. The state's six percent sales tax is extended to digital downloads of videos, books, games, music, and applications.

There are no broad-based tax increases (i.e. personal income tax or sales and use taxes) in the election-year budget. With your help, we were successful opposing efforts this session to put a six percent sales tax on admissions to amusement parks and other recreation-type businesses (e.g., county fairs, festivals, etc.). However, looking ahead to next year we do expect taxes to be on the table again. The revenue package did not solve Pennsylvania's long-term fiscal problems.

Senate Bill 735

We are continuing our efforts to enact legislation that would allow mobile food vendors to operate in multiple jurisdictions without having to pay multiple fees in each county the mobile food vendor is in operation. As the law currently stands, mobile food vendors are required to purchase a license and be inspected in each food safety jurisdiction which they operate. This is an expensive venture that has proven to be unnecessary. We were successful in getting the legislation unanimously approved by the Senate and our strong push in the House is now bringing stakeholders to the table. Facing a short window for passage, there is a commitment to work on language to resolve the issue and hit the ground running in 2017-18.

Political Landscape/Grassroots

This year, along with presidential candidates Hillary Clinton and Donald Trump, all 203 House seats and half of the 50 Senate seats will be on the November 8 ballot. At this point, we do not foresee major shifts in Pennsylvania politics. It is likely that the Republicans will maintain control of the House of Representatives and Senate. Democratic Governor Tom Wolf has two more years of his original four year term remaining. Your issues are not partisan and there are many good friends working with us in the House, Senate and Administration. We must continue to build upon those relationships.

During a typical legislative session, there will be nearly 3000 bills introduced in the House of Representatives. In the Senate another 2000 bills. On top of that 2000 resolutions. Of the 5000 bills introduced, it is likely that about 4% or less will actually become law. The legislative process is meant to be frustrating, long and difficult. Imagine the outcomes if it was not.

This is why your involvement in the process is crucial to the future success and stability of Pennsylvania's County Fairs – whether advocating for a bill, funding or opposing a tax. After the November general election, it is go-time for 2017-18. Please get engaged.

If you have any questions or would like to get involved, please do not hesitate to contact us at 717.232.5322. We have an open door policy.

ASSOCIATE MEMBERS REPORT

-Galla Higinbotham

Welcome new associates!
And a big shout-out to the associates who have been a part of the PSACF organization for a long, long time – many into double digits!

Plans are rapidly coming together for the 2017 PSACF/PSSA convention.

If you have not already done so, BOOK YOUR ROOM now. In the past, some people were not able to get rooms as they waited too long to make their reservation. Follow the instructions on the PSACF website to get the convention room rate.

Associates who meet the criteria (you are eligible to apply if you have not showcased in the last 3 years) should have received applications to participate in the much anticipated talent showcase. This will take place at 6:30 on Wednesday, January 18th and features a top notch array of entertainment: magicians, jugglers, bands and musical acts, tribute bands and more.

I strongly urge those of you who qualify, to send in an application. The Wednesday night showcase committee looks for diversity: juggling, magic/illusion and novelty stage acts as well as musical groups, bands and singers – for all sizes of venues. Out of approximately 50 acts, 17 acts are chosen. If you are selected, you will be performing for over 100 fairs and buyers from all over Pennsylvania (from Maryland and New Jersey too) who are actively looking for acts that will make their fair special. The showcase is a highlight of the convention, an excellent opportunity for fairs to experience acts/attractions/bands firsthand and book them early for the 2017 fair season.

Additionally, strolling acts/street musicians/grounds entertainers (roving acts who do not offer a stage show) may apply to perform in the Chocolate Ballroom lobby prior to the banquets on Thursday and Friday evenings. The strolling act application is on the PSACF website www.pafairs.org. For those of you who are going to the website with a smart phone, some may need to click on 'desktop site' to get to the 'members' tab. Then click on 'associate information' and the strolling performers application is there.

The applications for the showcase and strolling entertainment must be received by October 15th. A DVD of you performing 'live' is required as part of your packet, not just an audio CD or a produced 'music video'. The entertainment decision-makers want to see what your actual live performance would be. Your submitted DVD should be short – 3 to 5 minutes of your best material. Please make sure it plays on players other than your computer. And no paper labels! Each year there are several acts that cannot be considered because their DVD will not play. Paper labels are a major culprit, or the DVD is only formatted for the computer on which it was burned. You must be a paid up member of the state association at the time you submit your application as well as at the time of the convention - January 2017.

All the best,
Galla www.gallaanddan.com

2016 PENNSYLVANIA STATE FAIR QUEEN

— Darby Kasper

Dear Agricultural Friends, what a change in the weather from the 30 inches of snow that we had in Hershey at the last convention. My visits to your fairs have been on extremely hot days that were interspersed with torrential downpours. However, this weather did not stop me from traveling to every corner of the state to see the uniqueness of twenty different fairs, and I still have five more to attend. I have had a phenomenal time attending your fairs this summer, and was so impressed by the variety of events at each fair. I have judged contests, crowned queens, eaten amazing food, and met hit country singer William Michael Morgan. In addition to attending fairs, I also had the opportunity to represent the PSACF at Ag Progress Days. Children that visited our booth had the opportunity to make a bunny craft, and we made somewhere around 300! Information about the fairs in PA and the fair queen contest were available for the attendees. It was a great agricultural event with so many educational activities.

I have enjoyed my visits at your fair and have been able to connect with producers, consumers, legislators and businesses to promote fairs and agriculture. The amount of volunteer hours that are behind all of these spectacular events is unbelievable. You have all been so gracious in making me a part of your fair during my visitations. Thank you for all that you do to make the PA fair system successful.

FAMILY FUED IS BACK AT CONVENTION SIGN UP NOW !!!!

BY: KEVIN D. BIEBER

What would the PSACF and PSSA convention be without a little fun amongst our fair families? Well, to satisfy that "fun" part, we are bringing back Family Fued on Saturday afternoon. Last year presented lots of laughing, stiff competition and yes, silly answers. However it was all in fun. The Elizabethtown Fair took the championship last year, who is going to try to be the champion this year?

It was great to see that a few fairs wanted to participate again last year, so this year I am once again asking for you to sign up ahead of time.

Unfortunately due to time on Saturday afternoon, we have to limit the game to 4 teams of 5 people. If more than 4 teams sign up, we will hold a drawing to see which 4 fairs will be on stage this year.

Sign your fair up now, the deadline is December 1st. How do you sign up? It is easy, please call my cell at 484-256-8009 and I will put you on the list. Make sure you have 5 willing players from your fair who will participate. If I have more than 4 fairs that would like to participate, the PSACF Board will hold a drawing to see who will be on the Fued !!!!! If your fair has already participated, please allow a new fair to have a turn at all the fun.

SURVEY SAYS See you at Hershey !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

2017 IAFE ZONE 1 MEETING TO BE IN PENNSYLVANIA

Kevin Bieber

The Pennsylvania State Association of County Fairs Board is pleased to announce that it will be the host for the 2017 IAFE Zone 1 meeting. The meeting will be held in Wyomissing Pennsylvania (near Reading, Pa) at the Crowne Plaza Hotel. The conference will run March 30, 31 and April 1st. I promise this conference will be filled with lots of educational seminars, plenty of great food and FUN for all.

Although the final agenda for the conference is still being worked on, I can share with you some of the highlights that you will be able to look forward to. On Friday evening we will board busses and head to the Allentown Fairgrounds for a tour of the Farmers Market in operation and then prepare ourselves for a great dinner and entertainment. Saturday after a day of seminars and table topics, we will once again board the busses and head to the Oley Valley Community Fairgrounds for a delicious Pennsylvania Dutch Meal along with entertainment. We are also currently working on two tour sites to stop at before arriving at the Oley Fairgrounds.

As for the guest speakers that Jim Davis has already lined up, we are pleased to welcome the following. Sam Hayes, Jr. will be coming to our conference and speaking on what it takes to keep our youth involved in the fairs. Rita Graef, an Associate Dean in Ag Science at Penn State will speak to us on how we tell the story of Agriculture to our urban friends. Karen Dobson will be providing a former state fair queen or two, telling us how the experiences as the fair queen widen their horizons, and made them successful in their present careers. We are also working with Jean Lonie of Penn State as well as the IAFE to add to this already impressive speakers list. I guarantee you that our agenda will be full, fun and exciting as we have many more great speakers yet to be announced.

The Crowne Plaza is currently taking room reservations. You can call them at 1-877-814-2538 or check out our PA Fairs Website for the link to the room reservations. Be sure to tell them you are with the IAFE 2017 Zone Conference. Remember, our block of rooms are limited, please secure these reservations now. The room rates are $119.00 a night for a standard double room.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the committee that will be working hard on this event. They include, Kevin Bieber, Chairman, Jim Davis, Karen Dobson, Bev Gruber, Gala Higinbotham, Ron Miller, John Blaney, Harry Reffner, Dr. Davis Reese and Dave Hallstrom.

Grand Champion Competitive Exhibits

Presented by Jill Albanese

Ready for some Grand Champion competitive contests at your fair? Learn a recipe for success in any type of display that incorporates one part creativity, one part enthusiastic fairgoers and one part amazing displays. By the end of this session, the group will create a new competitive contest using these simple techniques.

Jill Albanese, CFE, Director of Competitive Exhibits, has been at the Wisconsin State Fair for the past 18 years. She oversees the Textile, Craft & Culinary Department, Horticulture Department, Young People Art Exhibit, Plein Aire, History Exhibit, Amateur Beer and Wine Competition, Century and Sesquicentennial Farm Program, Wisconsin Products Pavilion, and the Wisconsin State Fair's grounds planting. Jill is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin – Madison, a cake decorator and avid gardener.

Why Think Ag

Presented by Jean Lonie, Director of Student Recruitment and Activities, Penn State. Explore the role of agriculture in promoting your fair and connecting the community to Pennsylvania's number one industry. Agriculture was recently named the #5 highest paying college degree in the United States and projections show nearly 60,000 job openings each year to ag graduates. What does this mean in terms of your fair? It becomes a chance to use agriculture to engage attendees and highlight the many opportunities available in this diverse industry. From online scavenger hunts that are fun and informative to using physical locations to highlight educational and career opportunities in agriculture, your fair can be a key part of the story in why agriculture matters- and agriculture can be a great way to engage and attract more visitors.

Ag Media Communication

Presented by Kirby Dygert. We will discuss the inner workings of media and how to handle crisis situations as it pertains to livestock. Learn how to bridge the gap between the non-ag community and the Ag community.

Two organizations with a common goal, same mission, working with livestock associations

Presenter Kirby Dygert. Don't ever miss out on the opportunity to work with livestock associations whether they are youth associations such as the National Junior Swine Association or adult associations such as the New York Beef Producers. No matter if they are national or local organizations; the joint efforts of the two combined always help to increase the attendance at your shows and help promote the industry as a whole.

Food Safety Updates

The Food Safety updates will be presented by PA Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Food Safety & Laboratory Services.

PA FAIR QUEEN STATE CONTEST

We are having so much fun seeing the emails, text messages and Facebook posts from fairs as they share the excitement of their 2016 Fair Queen programs. They are so proud to show off how their new Queens are representing their fairs and also educating the public about agriculture and the importance of PA fairs. Thank you to the fairs that also took advantage of the opportunity to include our 2016 PA Fair Queen Darby Kasper or Alternate Molly Arnold in their events, and special thank you to PSACF for sponsoring the mileage reimbursement plan that makes these visits possible.

The State Competition will be held January 19-21 at the Hershey Lodge and Convention Center. State Contest Applications are available for download on PSACF's website under the "Members-Queen Program" section of the Home Page. There are three critical deadlines to remember:

November 1 -

Postmark deadline for submitting the State Contest Application, $120 fee, and Name Form for the Contestant's reserved Coronation Banquet table seating

December 15 -

Deadline for ordering Convention Badges and Banquet Tickets all attendees including the Queen Contestant, her Fair Board, Coordinator, Chaperone, Family and Friends

December 28 -

Deadline for submitting the "NEW" Fair Queen Contestant's Hotel Room request form/credit card authorization directly to the Hershey Lodge.

The Official Contestant Handbook will be mailed to each qualified Contestant and her Coordinator in early December. Sneak Preview – we will be replacing the contestant gift exchange with a new idea that will benefit our fundraising efforts!

Our fundraisers at Convention are our major sources of revenue. They include a basket raffle, silent/live auction, and a 50/50. So download the Fundraising Flyer from the www.pafairs.org website (Members-Queen Program) to find out how you and your Fair can help to promote this worthwhile scholarship program. We request responses by November 15 so the Fundraising committee can plan accordingly.

Our next promotional event is at Farm-City Day on Thursday, October 6 when fair queens across PA will serve as tour guides to over 1200 students who will be learning about Pennsylvania agriculture through various learning stations. The event is held in conjunction with the Keystone International Livestock Exposition (KILE) at the Pennsylvania Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg. Interested Queens must respond to Martha Ebersole 717-580-6753 or email: mebas-ket@embarqmail.com to sign up to participate at the Farm-City Day event.

If you have questions or need additional information on any aspect of the PA Fair Queen Program, please contact the appropriate Committee person:

SPOUSE 2017 CONVENTION ACTIVITIES — Hazel Blaney

Activities for the spouses attending the 2017 convention will include Basket & Bag Bingo featuring Vera Bradley bags and Longaberger Baskets, a hands-on project of fragrant lavender sachets to freshen any room, and the return of Antiques Appraisals with Harry.

So remember to bring your items that you think could be of value, come and try to win a bag or basket and have fun learning a new and easy (yet useful) craft.

As always fairs are encouraged to bring items for the ticket auction held in the Great Hallway to support our Spouse programs and the PSACF/ Mignot Scholarship. Gifts for door prizes at the three activities are also appreciated.

SPECIAL BAKING CONTESTS

— Karen Dobson

A reminder that the Special Baking contest summary reports are due by November 15.

An online submission option is available – your fair can submit the winner information for all four (4) contests at one time. Simply type in the web address in your Internet browser to access the 2016 Baking Contest Summary Form – <http://goo.gl/forms/jBozU2QJpr> Answer all the questions and click Submit. As one baking contest coordinate told us, “I just submitted the contest summary online! It took me longer at the fair to fill in the paperwork then it did to type it online! Thank you!”

For those who are not comfortable using the online, we will still accept the standard paper forms by mail or email. The important part is to get the winner information submitted so that we can send those winners the PA Farm Show contest reminder.

Updates about the 2017 special baking contests will be given at the fall Zone meetings. PA Preferred had already informed us that they can no longer continue to sponsor a “chocolate” baking contest because their program promotes only Pennsylvania grown and produced agricultural commodities, and chocolate is not grown in PA. As such, we are waiting for their proposal to sponsor an alternative baking contest that would better reflect their marketing program’s mission.

A special post card mailing will go out in December to notify all certified Chocolate, Angel Food and Apple Pie winners of the state finals at the 2017 PA Farm Show. Each contestant who choose to participate must bring an original and one copy of the signed Certification Form and follow the official contest rules that were issued to the fairs.

Please encourage your winners to come to Farm Show. It is such an awesome experience to be part of the state competition. If the first-place winners are not able to participate, Fairs have the option to send the next place runner-up as long as they bring the proper Certification Form. If there are any questions, contact the appropriate committee chairpersons:
