What Does Rose City Reunion Mean to You?

What Rose City Reunion means to me is bringing everyone back together. As we all know we have gone through tough times with Covid and not being able to be reunited with family and friends. The Rose City Reunion is just the epitome of bringing everyone back together and really solidifying that time of year where there is warmth, family and love and just the Rose Festival in its whole. I really love how the Rose Festival brings people of all walks of life together no matter how old or young, what race you are, your gender/sexual orientation there is always a place for you and I really, really appreciate that. I enjoy the festivities and I know that it's just a great time to bring family back together. I hope that this year we see that and that even though we have gone through the worst of the worst in the past two years, that we all go to the Rose Festival and enjoy the time that we have since it's a very precious time.
