

4-H & FFA Junior Livestock Auction

Date: Saturday, September 19, 2026

Time: 10:00 a.m. MDT

Purpose

The purpose of a Junior Livestock Auction is to support and invest in the growth and success of youth involved in agricultural programs. Through the sale of their animal projects, participants are recognized for their hard work, responsibility, and dedication. The auction provides a meaningful opportunity for the community to give back by encouraging young people to continue developing valuable life skills such as leadership, work ethic, and stewardship. By supporting these efforts, we help foster the next generation of agricultural leaders and strengthen the future of our communities.

Buyer Operations

1. Individuals and/or businesses may register as a buyer on the day of the auction in the Market building of the Fairpark, this is also where the auction itself will take place.
2. Once registered, a buyer will then receive a numbered card. This number is the buyer or bidder number.
3. To bid on an animal, buyers must raise their numbered card once the sale begins on that animal. Once the bidding has ended on an animal, the auctioneer will announce that the animal is "sold" to the highest bidder. The highest bidder will then hold up their numbered card for the ring person and/or auctioneer so they may take down your buyer number to indicate which buyer purchased the animal.
4. This process is repeated for each additional animal the buyer wishes to purchase.

**Proxy buyers are available for individuals or businesses who wish to purchase an animal but prefer to have a representative bid on their behalf. Those interested in utilizing a proxy buyer should consult the auction clerk or a member of the auction committee prior to the start of the auction

Note: The proxy buyer acts solely as an agent in the bidding process and is not the purchaser of the animal. The party on whose behalf the proxy is bidding assumes full responsibility for payment and final disposition of the animal.

Method of Purchase

Buyers have multiple ways to participate in and support exhibitors through the Junior Market Livestock Auction:

1. Outright Purchase

- a. Buyers may purchase an animal for custom slaughter or personal use. Buyers selecting this option assume responsibility for arranging transportation of the animal and are responsible for paying the full sale price of the animal.
- b. This is a good option to use if you are purchasing an animal with the intent to slaughter and obtain its meat products for your own personal use, or if you would like to purchase a female animal for production purposes. Regardless of the intended use, this option allows the buyer to purchase the animal entirely to be used as they see fit. Note: Grand and Reserve Champion animals must go to slaughter.
- c. To utilize this option, buyers must inform the ring person where the animal is being sent to as soon as it has been purchased in the auction.

2. “Boost” Option

- a. Buyers may choose to “boost” an animal rather than take possession. In this case, the animal is released to a designated floor buyer for processing and distribution. The “boost” buyer is responsible only for the difference between the final bid price and the established floor price listed on the sale order (Ex. The floor price for a market steer is $2,300. Your final bid is $4,000. You elect to “boost” the animal, therefore you would pay the final bid price of $4,000 MINUS the floor price of $2,300, for a total of $1,700). Note: The “boost” buyer does not take possession of the animal or receive any resulting products.
- b. This is a good option to use if you do not wish to purchase an animal outright for personal use but still wish to support a Junior Livestock Exhibitor. The “boost” buyers help provide funding to the youth exhibitor to support their efforts in their individual livestock project area and promote the continued education and experience of our youth exhibitors.

- c. To utilize this option, buyers must inform the ring person that they wish to “boost” the animal as soon as it has been purchased in the auction.

3. Add-On Contributions

- a. Buyers may support exhibitors through add-on contributions without purchasing or boosting an animal during the auction itself. Note: The “add-on” buyer does not take possession of the animal or receive any resulting products.
- b. This is a good option to use if you don’t want to bid on an animal in the auction itself, you were outbid on an animal in the auction but still wish to contribute money to the youth exhibitor, or want to contribute a certain amount of money to various exhibitors in the auction without actually bidding on each of their animals.
- c. To utilize this option, buyers must fill out an add-on form indicating which animals/exhibitors they would like to contribute to and the amount in which they would like to contribute. This form must be turned in to the livestock office by the conclusion of the auction or at time of payment.

**Buyers may participate individually or jointly with other individuals or businesses to purchase or “boost” an animal. All joint purchases or contributions must be clearly declared to the ring official at the time of sale, and all participating parties must provide their registered buyer numbers. The auction committee is not responsible for the allocation of costs, billing arrangements, or distribution of products among joint buyers.
