

What is Fine Craft?

The arts festival offers a strong and diverse presentation of fine craft. In our continued effort to give our community a deeper and more focused experience with art, we created the Texas Fine Craft Show, where artists work in ceramics, fiber, wood, glass, metal, jewelry, leather, and other material-based disciplines, all at a high level of skill and creativity.

It Starts With The Hand

It is the transformation of raw materials like clay, fiber, wood, metal, glass, and leather into something meaningful. It takes time, skill, and dedication to truly master a material and shape it into something special.

It Takes Skill

Craft becomes fine craft when technique meets artistry. These artists refine their skills over years of practice, learning the limits and possibilities of their medium. The result is work that feels thoughtful, confident, and beautifully resolved.

It Can Be Functional. Or Not.

Many craft traditions began with everyday objects like vessels, textiles, and tools. Fine craft honors that history while also pushing beyond it. Some pieces are meant to be used. Others are meant to be displayed. Many are both.

Why It Matters

Handmade objects connect us to the artist behind them. In a world filled with machine-made goods, fine craft reminds us of human presence, care, and imagination. There is something different about living with objects shaped by real hands.

*Inspired by "Craft: Seriously, What Does the Word Mean?"
American Craft Council, craftcouncil.org.*

"The handmade is about the maker's hand and the maker's heart."

Spring Reflection by Taman VanScoy

WELCOME!

A dream that started more than 20 years ago has blossomed into a nationally recognized celebration of creativity, and it is our imagination, passion, and curiosity that have made this dream a reality. Our artists, volunteers, patrons, sponsors, and art lovers all play a vital role in transforming the festival into a space where visions take flight and dreams are shared.

Over the years, this festival has become more than an event. It has become a canvas for connection. The art you welcome into your home is not merely an object, as it sparks inspiration, companions to your dreams, and reminders that creativity can shape every corner of our lives. Art invites us to dream bigger, see differently, and imagine what could be.

As we come together this year, I invite you to wander, wonder, and dream along The Woodlands Waterway. Whether discovering a new artist, reconnecting with friends, or experiencing the festival for the first time, your presence brings this shared vision of possibility to life.

I am deeply grateful to the founders, artists, supporters, volunteers, board directors, and staff whose dedication and passion have built this festival into an inspiring community. Together, we are not just celebrating art, we are nurturing dreams that will continue to grow in The Woodlands, Montgomery County, and beyond.

I look forward to celebrating with you and dreaming together about all that lies ahead.

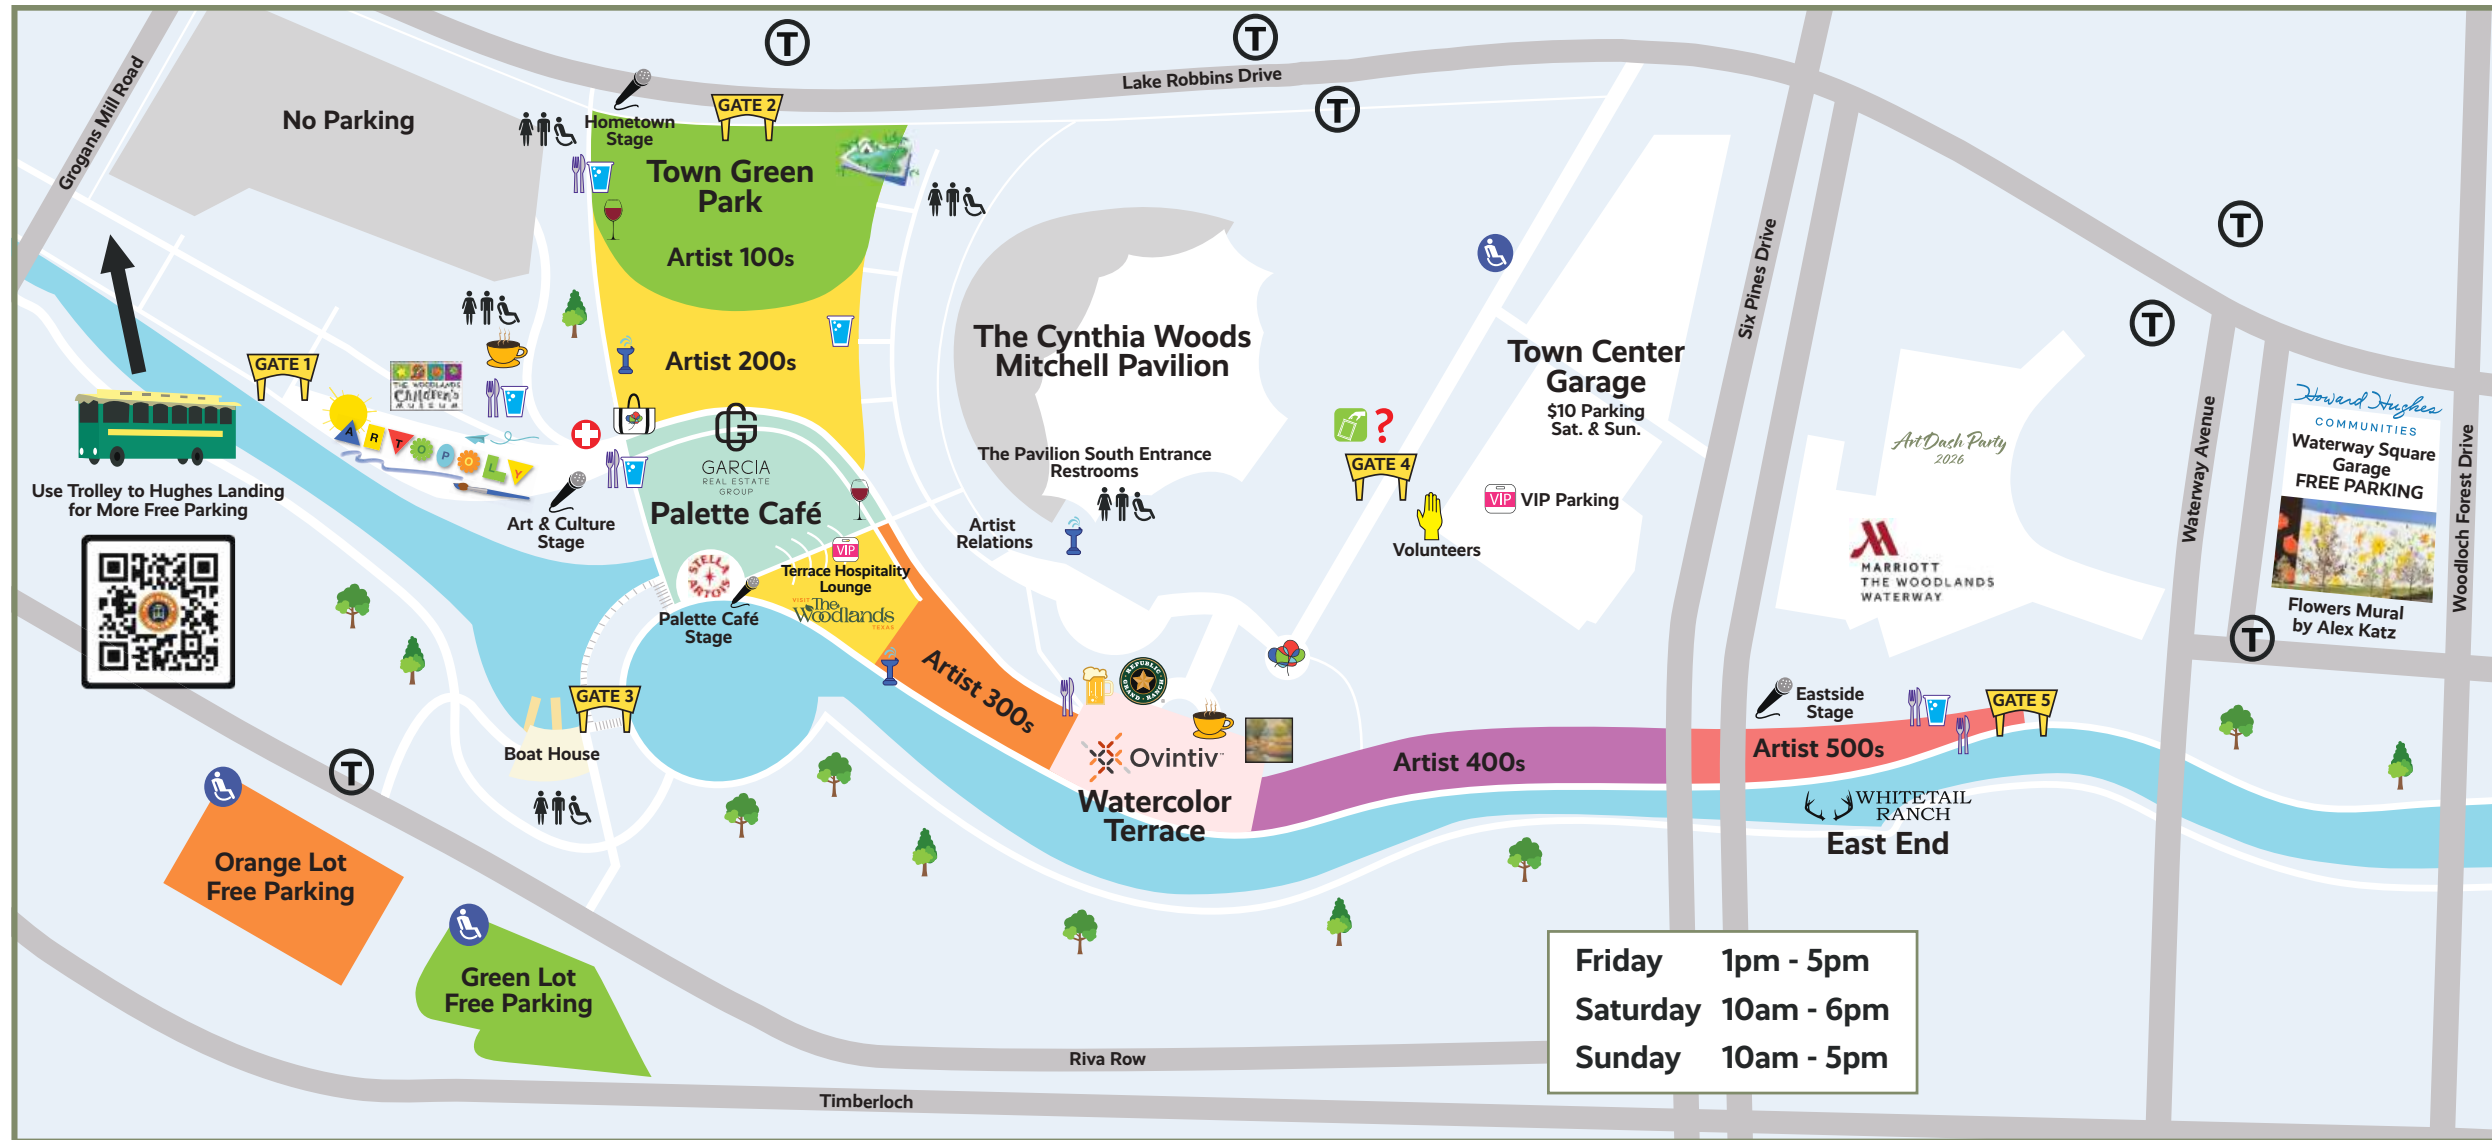

Warmly,

Haley Garcia

2026 FEATURED ARTIST Taman VanScoy

Born in Santa Barbara, California, and raised in the San Fernando Valley of Southern California, the imagery surrounding Taman early on consisted primarily of cityscapes with the occasional glimpse of a sun-drenched desert climate. Childhood trips to the Midwest, visiting the family farm, and also being instinctively drawn to nature, yet lacking the visual stimulation of wide-open, colorful landscapes, he began to idealize landscape compositions and color combinations in his mind. In essence, he would create an imaginary and almost dreamlike scene that to this day continues to be the first step when creating his paintings.

Taman's current body of work explores themes of renewal and new beginnings inspired by the changing seasons. His featured artwork, Spring Reflection, reflects this inspiration, drawing from the springtime bloom of wildflowers across Texas to create peaceful landscape scenes that capture the beauty and mystery of nature.

BOOKS ON THE GREEN

Located at North Town Green Park

In Partnership with Village Books

Make time for the Books on the Green tent—where great stories take center stage. Discover the history of American literature, enjoy talks from award-winning authors across romance, fantasy, history, and children’s literature, and try reader-favorite activities like book speed dating and a blind date with a book. Come listen, learn, and leave with a new favorite read.
